

FOOD FOR THOUGHT ERASMUS PLUS PROJECT

Our adventure in Clermond

On Sunday October 6th Mikel, Ander, Paula, Marcela, Verónica, Enzo and Aitor, students of Gamarra Hospitality school, embarked together with two teachers on the adventure of discovering the Auvergne region of France for a week.

This fantastic opportunity was part of the Erasmus plus Food for Thought project, a project whose main objective is to provide students with the opportunity students with to know the culture of the regions that make up the project through their respective gastronomies.

During that week we were able to visit the Chamalieres Hospitality School, a center similar to ours and located near the city of Clermont Ferrand. We had lunch at their facilities and we appreciated the rigorous service protocol.

Our hosts, the Lycée Amédée Gasquet school center, designed a very complete agenda of activities, highlighting activities such as regional cheese tasting, volcanic water tasting, visiting the Puy de Dome, bread market, visits to pastry makers, etc. And all this we could enjoy together with our Greek friends of the school 1 Epal of Piraeus that are part of the project.

These types of projects are very rewarding, not only because we can meet new regions and products, but also because they represent a unique opportunity to establish new relationships with students similar to us.
